Spotlight: Austin Voices KidsFest

CTFB Partner Agency - Austin Voices recently hosted their 5th Annual KidsFest! At the event, over 400 families received food assistance and 232 individuals received COVID-19 vaccinations. This event has become a spring tradition for the Northeast Vertical Team of Austin ISD schools, Austin Voices for Education and Youth and other community partners. Each year these organizations come together to offer information and resources to the community that celebrate and support youth education and development. At this year’s KidsFest, CTFB partnered to provide emergency relief boxes and boxes of fresh produce to assist families during these challenging times. The event operated as a drive-thru this year, following CDC guidelines for masks, social distancing and low contact; with exhibitors attending by invitation only.

CTFB also shared ‘positivity posters’ created by young volunteers from Austin Allies for the event. Austin Allies is a volunteer organization with a mission that centers on the transformative power of the volunteer experience and the belief that engagement builds empathy. These posters were an opportunity to provide words of encouragement alongside the healthy food options.

Recipe of the Month: Bean Enchiladas

This month’s recipe, features pinto beans. Beans are part of the legumes family. Legumes are plants whose seeds dry in the seedpod. Other members of the family include lentils and soybeans. Did you know that there are 13,000 known bean varieties worldwide.

In addition to their great taste, they are a nutrient dense food. Unlike meat-based proteins, beans are naturally low in fat, are free of saturated fat and trans-fat, and are a cholesterol-free source of protein. They are also high in potassium and fiber. Beans are very versatile and can be included as a side to any meal or as the main ingredient in a vegetarian meal. Try them in a hearty chili, quesadillas, bean dips, bean soup or refried beans.

There are a variety of ways to prepare and cook beans. Sort out the beans by picking out and discarding any foreign objects like leaves or small stones. Rinse the beans with water and then drain the water. Soak the beans by putting the beans in a large pot and add fresh water to cover them. Soaking the beans has two major benefits as it reduces the cooking time and it breaks down the compounds in beans that cause gas. Dispose of water it has soaked in and put in fresh water before cooking. Heat beans and water to boiling, then turn the heat to low and cover the pot. Since beans soak up water, you may need to add more water during cooking. Beans require from thirty minutes to three hours to cook. depending on the type of bean and the soaking method. Always check for suggested soaking and cooking times for different bean varieties.

In our featured recipe, pinto beans are paired with corn tortillas and a green chile enchilada sauce. These bean enchiladas require just a few ingredients and you will have a vegetarian dinner in no time! As an optional topping, you can put sliced avocado, which adds a nice creamy texture and healthy fats to the enchiladas.
